MEXICANS CLASH IN ACTUAL WARFARE

REBELS AND LOYAL TROOPS MEET NEAR VERA CRUZ

REVOLT LOOKS SERIOUS FOR OBREGON RULE

Americans, Anxious to Leave Mexico for U. S., Are Held Below Border.—General Calles Offers to Quit Candidacy and Lead Army.

Mexico City.—As an emergency measure, congress has granted President Obregon extraordinary powers over war, treasury and interior departments. Congress further intimated it would grant the president permission to suspend individual guarantees throughout the republic, except in cases of death sentences. A new rebellion has been added to the sporadic revolution now under way. The president of the municipality of Ayutla, in the state of Guerrero, has received a message from Camp San Marcos declaring that a revolutionary movement has begun there. The revolutionists have proclaimed the constitution of 1857, and refuse to recognize President Obregon and the agrarian law.

Mexico City.—Fighting between rebel forces under General Sanchez, leader of the insurrection, and troops loyal to the Mexican government, took place at Jalapa, capital of Vera Cruz. General Calles, against whose candidacy for the presidency supporters of Adolfo de la Huerta have risen, has made two known offers to President Obregon.

He will abandon his campaign if Obregon finds it embarrassing. Or he will raise and lead an army of 100,000 against the rebels.

The railroads running from the capital northward to the United States border was cut and many Americans, leaving hurridly for homes, were forced to remain here. Among them was A. J. McQuarters, Los Angeles capitalist.

While the reports of actual fighting at Jalapa stimulated interest in the insurrection, there was little real apprehension expected among inexperienced tourists. Some of these latter believed themselves in peril, but business men and others who have been through a revolution or two know how capably old Mexico handles such affairs.

Officials of the Obregon government were emphatic in stating that at no other place than in Vera Cruz would intervention of federal forces be necessary at the present time. Local troops of the various states where uprisings have occured are declared competent to handle the situation.

When the army of Federals moved out of the capital and proceeded toward Jalapa, the looked very business like.

In the marching ranks were the best trained troops of all Obregon's forces. These were the most seasoned warriors any constitutioned authority in Mexico ever had at his disposal.

TURKISH BATTERY'S POOR AIM SAVES GREEK REFUGEE SHIP

Paris.—Bad aim of a Turkish batting, fired on a Greek refugee ship under the protection of the American Near East relief organization, prevented an unpleasant international incident. Two thousand Greeks, who had been resident in Turkey, were on board the vessel, being repatriated under the exchange of population plan. They were under the protection of H. C. Jacqueth, director of the Near East relief, who has been aiding the great migratory movement.

As the ship entered Symrna the Turkish commander of the shore fort, unaware of the vessel's identity, ordered the battery to fire.

Colonel Forbes Stricken

Washington.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the United States Veterans' bureau, who was recently under fire here in connection with the senate's investigation of the bureau, has been stricken with paralysis at the home of his mother in Brookline, Mass., according to advices. Forbes has been ill for several months.

Pacific Fleet at San Pedro

San Pedro.—The Pacific naval fleet is massed here preceeding the sailing of the entire armada to the Carribbean sea for annual winter maneuvers. January 2 has been set as the day for the sailing of the fleet southward and until then maneuver reherasals off San Clemente Island are scheduled.

Burnt Hotel to Be Rebuilt

Sonoma.—Plans for a new hotel to replace the building destroyed by fire have been accepted by the Boyes Springs Hotel company. The hotel will be ready in May.

COOLIDGE IS IN THE RACE FOR ELECTION

FORMAL STATEMENT SAYS PRESIDENT WILL RUN

HARVEY IS SEEN AS CAMPAIGN MANAGER

Executive's Friends Win First Victory By Picking City for Convention.—Favorable Effects of Message Impress Party Leaders.

Washington.—The first official announcement regarding the campaign plans of President Coolidge was made here, when Frank W. Stearns, Boston merchant and close friend of Coolidge, made the following statement:

"The friends of President Coolidge are organizing under the guidance of William M. Butler, the Massachusetts member of the national committee and a friend of Mr. Coolidge of many years' standing, who will act as the president's personal representative.

"As he perfects the organization he will from time to time make known those in various parts of the country who will cooperate with him in the organization."

The Coolidge campaign will enter its active stage here this week during the meeting of the Republican national committee, which has brought all G. O. P. leaders of note flocking to the capital.

Coolidge leaders have been busy behind the scenes for weeks, but the next few days will see the president's candidacy emerging from the shadows. Two developements during the last week have impelled Coolidge's managers to strike now:

1. The victory over Senator Hiram Johnson in the South Dakota proposal convention, which showed the president to have strong following in the wheat belt.

2. The favorable reaction toward the president's message to congress, which was well received, even in the Democratic press, with such journals as the New York World, New York Times and the Atlanta Constitution voicing approval of the significant recommendations which the president made.

William M. Buttle, national committeeman from Massachusetts and a man with many business connections in New England, has been made financial director of the Coolidge forces. Butler has had long experience in money-raising.

He is here for the national committee meeting and will confer with the president, so as to be in a position to speak with authority when he mingles with his fellow committeemen in furthering the interests of the president.

The plan is to select a campaign manager not now affiliated with the national committee. George Harvey, retiring ambassador to Great Britan, a guest at the White House, is the most likely choice. There is no question about his political talent. In Harvey and Butler, Coolidge would have a formidable team.

INSURGENTS IN HOUSE TO WAR OVER NEW ISSUE

Washington.—Congress began its second week with promise of more of the fireworks that sputtered through the hectic opening days—but with less likelihood of results. The band of seventeen insurgents who deadlocked the house organization for two days are back on the warpath behind another issue, abolition of "packed committees." Progressives began the fight over organization which was delayed in the ceremonious opening weakened, however, by the absence of their leader, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, who is still confined to his sick room.

House progressives, led by John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, have won their first victory, the right to debate changes of rules which they say are "arbitrary" and "autocratic" on the floor of the house. The chance to garner the fruits of this victory, however, has been postponed a month by a formal truce with the regulars.

China Yields to Seizure

Peking.—Fearing that her already weak position might be further complicated, the Central Chinese government will silently consent to the military and naval intervention at Canton, where English, French and Japanese marines have landed to protect the customs house against the threatened seizure by Sun-Yat-Sen.

Fathers Only Job-Holders

Paris.—Senator Massabau, concerned at the declining French birth rate, has introduced a bill providing that no man can be elected to public office unless he has at least three children. This would make Premier Poincare, Aristide Briand, Rene Viviani and Louis Barthou ineligible for public service.

NO SMOKING ALLOWED AT MILLS COLLEGE

In a recent talk given by Mrs. Cora Baker, she is reported as quoting a newspaper item regarding the lifting of the ban on smoking at Mills College.

Miss Stella Leviston, an alumna, of that College, learning that this report was being accepted and spread abroad, wrote to Dr. Reinhardt and received the following letter in reply which she was desirous should be made public, especially as it might influence the decision of prospective students at her Alma Mater:

Dear Stella Leviston:

It is surprising to know that Mrs. Cora Baker should take seriously an item in a newspaper when this item is entirely false and erroneous and has no basis. The girls at Mills College do not smoke on the campus or off it in any public place as far as I know, and there is strong public sentiment, as there always has been, against it, for Mills has not had to face such difficult problems in this matter as have many eastern colleges apparently.

You are right in affirming that here is no smoking on our Mills College campus and that the student body as a unit are opposed to this. I am writing a brief note to allay the anxiety of Mrs. Cora Baker.

Yours very sincerely,
Rosalind A. Keep,
Director Bureau of Publication.

Pioneer Dies at Santa Rosa

Sant Rosa.—James A. Fletcher, who came to California by ox team in 1856, is dead. He had lived in Sanoma county for the last fifty years and was one of the first to grow fruit in this section.

Fletcher Hamilton, former state mineralogist, at the hearing of the senate committee on mines and mining, in Sacramento, charged railroad corporations of the west with putting obstacles in the way of mine owners by placing blanket mineral patents on land owned by them on the Pacific coast and forcing miners to carry a case through the courts before they may remove the ore from the railroad's land. The practice, Hamilton said, makes it impossible to resume normal production of minerals.

Gold mining in the Grass Valley section is developing an interest which approximates a boom, according to reports. It was there that rich placers were discovered in 1848, and in 1851 the first discovery of gold quartz in California was made at Gold Hill, at the south edge of the city. The district has produced upwards of $150,000,000 in gold, the greater part from deep quartz mining.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, may be appointed to the federal judgeship left vacant by the death of Judge William Van Fleet. ROBERTS-DUNPHY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dunphy on the Los Gatos Highway, when their son Nicholas was united in marriage to Miss Pearl Roberts of San Francisco.

Mrs. Dunphy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Roberts, of Salt Lake City, where her home was until two years ago when she came to San Francisco to accept a position with the Wiley B. Allen music house as stenographer.

The wedding was a very quiet one, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. E. Eckles and witnessed by only one or two friends beside the family.

Mr. Warburton, of San Francisco, acted as best man and the bride was attended by Miss Harriet Dunphy.

The bride was lovely in a gown of rose colored georgette with grey fur trimming and carrying a bouquet of pink rose buds and lilies-of-the-valley with maidenhair fern.

The bridal party stood under a bower of vines and flowers while the whole house was beautiful with autumn vines and berries. Immediately following the ceremony a turkey dinner was served and late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dunphy left for their new home in San Fransico.

The congratulations and best wishes of many Campbell friends follow them.

HI BOYS VICTORS

Last Monday afternoon the unlimited basket ball team of the C. U. H. S. went to Los Gatos for the first game of the season.

The Campbell boys were not used to the dirt court after playing in the new gym but still won by a good score.

On December 7, the team won from Santa Clara in our own gym by a score of 18 to 8. This was the first game of the P. A. L. for his season.

This evening, Dec. 14, on our own court the unlimiteds will oppose Palo Alto in the second P. A. L. game. This will undoubtedly be an interesting game as Palo Alto is a big school and turns out good teams.

There will also be a game between the 130's and a weight team from the same school.

STALLMAN-TAYLOR

On December first, Miss Nellie Stallman and Glen Taylor were married in San Francisco. Both of the young people hold good positions in that city and will continue to make their home there.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stallman, of Loomis, but who formerly resided on Johnson Avenue in Campbell and is known to many here, particularly in that neighborhood.

The groom is also a former resident of this community where he lived with his mother, who is a sister of Mrs. Herbert Duncan.

Friends of both the young people extend felicitations.

BURGLARS BUSY

The Southern Pacific station was broken into Saturday by a burglar but the only damage or loss noted was the broken ticket office window thru which entrance was made. Agent Berry returning to do some office duties after supper surprised the yegg who made his escape thru the back door at Mr. Berry's arrival at the front door.

Tuesday evening both the high school and grammar school were entered thru windows broken for the occasion and at last report nothing of importance was taken. Two windows were broken at the grammar school building and several windows and doors at the high.

IMPROVERS HOLD BUSY MEETING

The Improvement Club held its regular session Thursday evening with a generous number present.

The annual election was one of the chief pieces of business and the newly elected officers are: E. R. Kennedy, president, re-elected: T. A. Cutting, vice president; L. L. Miracle, secretary re-elected; L. S. Miller, vice secrtary; R. G. Archabald, treasurer reelected.

On motion it was voted to grant the Country Woman's Club the privilege of serving the Improvement Club's annual banquet. This will serve a double purpose, popularize Campbell's new social hall and raise funds to help defray running expenses of the library.

The program committee for the banquet evening has been appointed by Pres. Kennedy. They are Dr. W. I. Merrill, J. F. Wehmeyer and Mrs. Ralph Hyde.

Mr. Kennedy, who is a civil engineer on sewage problems, was present and gave an outline and probable cost of a suitable system for Campbell. President Kennedy (no relation) appointed as committee on sewage investigation R. Alison, S. N. Hedegard, H. C. Smith, Mrs. C. W. Sutter, Mrs. C. B. Miracle.

NELSON-JONES

Miss Mildred Nelson and W. Douglas Jones were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Brace avenue, November 21.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies-of the valley. Miss Verda Nelson was maid of honor wearing a gown of green georgett over peach and trimmed in silver.

Miss Alberta Hall sang "Because", accompanied by the groom's brother-in-law, Mr. Chas. Hayward, who also played Lohegrin's wedding march.

The groom was atended by his chum, Willard Plummer and the service was read by Dr. W. K. Towner, of San Jose.

The bride is a graduate of Campbell high school and Mr. Jones, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones, of Campbell, is now with the University Electric Company of Santa Clara.

After their honeymoon, they will be at home at 116 Brace avenue where they have a new home.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended them by their many friends.

FATHERS' MEETING

A short meeting of the P. T. A. of the High School was held Tuesday. The Seniors again won the $2.50 prize for attendance of mothers. The club decided to hold a food sale the first Saturday of January to replenish the treasury. It was decided, also, to hold a night meeting for fathers the second Tuesday in January, in the auditorium of the Annex. Legislation will be the subject for that meeting.

Report of the Edmund Vance Cooke meeting showed a profit of about $3.50 for each P. T. A.

Mrs. Watrous, who was to have discussed parliamentary law was unable to be present on account of the illness of her daughter, so a general discussion was held, led by Mrs. F. E. Duncan, past parliamentary chairman of the District P. T. A.

At the Congregational church next Sunday evening in connection with the School of Missions, Mr. C. R. Fisher of San Francisco will show his beautiful collection of Japanese pictures. Mr. Fisher took these photographs when he attended the World's Sunday School Convention in Tokyo, a few years ago and he values many of the slides at $10 for the originals were destroyed in the earthquake. These will be well worth seeing and the community is invited to enjoy them with us. This will be from 5:30 to 6:30.

THE RED CROSS DRIVE

No one with any understanding of the work of the Red Cross or appreciation of the service it is able to perform will fail to answer the roll call. In a thousand ways the Red Cross is busy 365 days a year administrating to a suffering and needy humanity. At home and abroad, wherever there is a call for human aid to succor the distressed, the Red Cross is present with its assistance. It is not possible for individual citizens in person to render the help the Red Cross gives nor is it practical for the Individual Citizen, to send his aid directly. The ubiquitous nation of the Red Cross, the fact that it is everywhere present, makes it possible for it to act in behalf of the citizen of the country collectively and to do for each and all of us a work which we would be glad to do ourselves were it possible. The Red Cross is simply the universal hand of charity. As such it deserves and should have the active support and co-operation of all good citizens who have in them hearts that respond in sympathy to the call of the unfortunate and distressed in every land.

We should contribute to its maintenance from the same patriotic motive that we pay our taxes, or make our contributions to our churches.

ON OUR KNEES!

What a spectacle the world presents! Russia in ruins. Germany on the verge of disaster. France striving to safeguard her future and get reparations for her devastated area. England staggering under a burden of unemployment. Greece, Jugo-Slavia and Italy in a ferment. China torn by civil war. Japan laid waste by the double catastrophe of earthquake and fire.

In contrast to these calamitous conditions, how minor, how trivial are the evils that confront us in the United States! We are possessors of a continent of vast resources, with a population small enought to be supported in comfort. We are protected by thousands of miles of ocean from possible rivals. We have no age-old curse of hate. Our problems can be met with good heart

There is not a worker in America, not a business or professional man, not a mother, not a child, who should not thank God for a lot cast in this favored land.—Kansas City Star.

ARE YOU LOYAL?

And again we remind you that this is a good town to live in, a good place to trade, and good one to keep your money in. But in time it will cease to be either unless you are as loyal to the town as it is to you. See which merchants are advertising in this paper and tell them what you want.

DO YOUR PART

The reason for most of the negligence on the part of public officials rests with the habit of the people of electing a man and then leaving it all up to him, as to what he shall do. If the various communities and counties were organized and would keep in touch with their officials they would receive better service.

Our Christmas Days as They Used to Be

SOMETIMES it seems as if the "elder days" were the best. Think of their Christmases! Where is the grace and generosity of those times? The warm welcome, the large cordiality, the mellow fun of innocent celebrations?

Perhaps we look back through the softening glow of distance, but there is a romance, a delicate, fine flavor of something which indeed seems lost to us now.

How the neighbors rode through the snow on horseback to large gatherings! How the pretty girls were muffled in rugs and furs, skimming over the road in sleighs! How the bells rippled and rang! And how the wide doors flew open to greet these guests!

Light of candles . . . breath of pine wreaths . . . sprigs of holly . . . and the high thrill of holiday thoughts.

Laughing faces . . . graceful and the Virginia reel in the evening.

It is a heartsome thing to think about. Let us try to insert some of this gentle beauty and spirit into our Christmas day. We have not the leisure and spaciousness of those times, but hearts can reflect just as truly the invisible yet invincible power of love and loveliness!—Martha B. Thomas.

As the Christmas season approaches the mail is constantly increasing. Our genial rural carrier, Danie Yeager, will be loaded with "joy packages" for his patrons. It is suggested that for the next ten days these patrons watch for the carrier and be at the box to receive packages thus speeding up the delivery of mail to those further on.

The January issue of the Popular Mechanics Magazine has a beautiful reproduction in colors of the new memorial window placed in the Campbell Congregational church. Henry Windsor, its editor, was the donor of this piece of art in memory of his father, Dr. Windsor, the founder and first pastor of this church, but was too modest to publish the name of his father in the center pane. Editor Windsor could at at least have published the name of the church and town where the window was placed.

California, with a death rate of 26 per 100,000, led all states in the union, in proportion to population, in deaths from automobile accidents in 1922. A total of 960 such deaths occurred in the state during the year and Los Angeles was the heaviest sufferer among the cities with 137. San Francisco had 118.

Torrance again led all California fields in the number of new oil wells started, for the week ending December 1. Eighteen new wells were started in the state, half of them in the Torrence field. Long Beach was second with six, and Santa Fe Springs, Midway and Kern county each had one.

One hundred and twenty classes, to include courses covering art, business, culture, journalism, language, music, public speaking and speech improvement, science and engineering, will be launched by the University of California extension division during the week of January 14 to 21.

The commercial and industrial survey of the Sacramento river, recently suggested by Major U. S. Grant, III, looking to greater river traffic, is engaging the attention of the directors of the commerce chambers in all the cities of communities affected.

Under the joint direction of the state bureau of nursing and the San Francisco Tuberculosis association, 1,000 student nurses met in the first anti-tuberculosis institute ever held there exclusively by the nursing profession.

Hetch Hetchey lake, the reservoir created by the O'Shaughnessy dam in the Sierras, was whipped by a 100-mile gale and some boats and launches sunk, among them a new launch belonging to the city of San Francisco.

Old Yuletide Hymn Favorite Everywhere

THERE is scarcely a church of any denomination that does not some time during the Christmas season echo to the strains of that beautiful and soul-inspiring hymn, "O, come all ye faithful." It seems to be a favorite at Yuletide in every land and in every clime whether it is sung as above referred to, or in its original form as the "Adeste Fidelis."

The hymn was first given to the world in the Thirteenth century by a Franciscan monk, but did not gain world-wide popularity for a long time after. The English translation was made by Canon Frederick Oakley over sixty years ago. Since that time the hymn has been translated into the language of every nation and the sweet and lofty words ring out at Christmas time in many remote places.

But while the English translation has superseded the original Latin to a great extent, yet the beauty of the original composition is such that there are many who still prefer to hear it even though the language is not their own.—Katherine Edelman.

Christmas Telegrams Add Yuletide Cheer

HE WAS always busy, always rushing, always hurrying. He always had so many things to attend to and so many people were constantly pressing it upon his time with this demand, with that, which required attention.

He wished he could see more of his friends. His frieds wished they could see more of him. He was the sort they would like to see more of and at times they were a little annoyed that he was so busy.

He was busier than was really normal. They said he had no time for the pleasant things of life and that he could neither enjoy things himself nor could he be enjoyed because he was always having so much to do.

But he took time for one thing. He never failed to take time for it.

Every Christmas he sent all his friends beautiful Christmas telegrams of cheer. He thought of them and he remembered them and every Christmas morning as his friends opened their gay Christmas telegrams they would say:

"He always finds time to think of me on Christmas morning, anway! What a pleasure this is!"—Mary Granam Bonner.

NOT WHAT HE EXPECTED

LITTLE DICK was too young to spell—he went entirely by sound. Consequently he suffered a great disappointmnt on Christmas morning. When he beheld his Christmas tree he said solemnly: "You said it would be a fur tree, daddy!"

"It is a fir tree," answered his father.

"But I thought it was going to look like my kitty!" wailed Dick.—Martha B. Thomas.

Who Is Your Neighbor? A Good Christmas Game

THIS is a very lively Christmas game, and one especially useful in an emergency, for it can be played without preparation of any kind. Arrange as many chairs as there are players in the form of a circle. When this has been done the party must divide into sides, one side being blindfolded and taking possession of the chairs in such a way that each has a vacant chair at his right hand.

The other side then move silently into the middle of the circle, and at a given signal they must all mysteriously and noiselessly seat themselves in the vacant chairs. At the word "sing" the unblindfolded players must all start singing. A well-known tune may be arranged beforehand, or they may all sing anything that happens to occur to them at the time.

All endeavor to disguise their voices as much as possible. The blindfolded players must listen attentively, the object of each being to guess correctly who his singing right-hand neighbor is.

Those whose guesses are correct have their bandages removed, and change places with their singing neighbors. The unsuccessful guessers must try again. One guess only is allowed each time.—F. H. Sweet.

When the bloodstained auto, belonging to Clarence Johnson of Sacramento, was found on a bridge there, riddled with bullets, fears were rife that he had been the victim of holdups. Discovery of close to $10,900 of indebtedness and rumors that he had been seen at the ticket window of the Southern Pacific depot, led to rejection of the murder theory for the opinion that he had staged a disappearance.

H. L. Crocker of Davis gave a lift to two wafarers on the road to Sacramento. They lifted his $13 and left him bound to a tree.

Put Christmas Wreath in Its Rightful Place

THEY were putting up the Christmas tree in the village community house with happy anticipations. Meanwhile two little folks and a dog were enjoying themselves on a big ice cake along the bay shore. As the ice moved off with the tide the children laughed with delight, but Pluto, after dropping his tail and thinking a moment, surprised them by giving a running leap into the water and striking out for the shore.

Not long after, Sim Gannett opened the door of his boat house to see what the dog was barking about and was greeted with a shower as Pluto shook himself. Then the dog ran in, stood upon his hing legs and begged, cocking his eyes towards the open door. As Sim did not understand this Pluto caught hold of his coat and pulled him towards the doorway. Thinking that the dog meant something, Sim, finally looked out and saw the ice floating seaward with the two small figures upon it.

It did not take the old fisherman long to get his boat down to the water and push it out through the floating ice, and soon two youngsters and a happy dog were huddled up in the bow of the returning boat.

After the carols were sung that night, they put the holly wreath that had graced the top of the tree upon Sim Gannett's neck, but Sim took it off and put it upon Pluto and he acted as though he knew that he deserved it.—Christopher G. Hazard.

Gay Christmas Thrill the Greatest of All

THE love in our hearts toward our fellow men; the happy, expectant, gay eagerness of children and their joyous, merry voices; the pure, white, soft beauty of snow; the deeply refreshing aroma of the forests which for a brief period we bring into our homes; the cheer of the home fireplace; the bringing together of all members of the family; the gaiety and the enthusiasm of Christmas shoppers; the stores, decorated and looking their best in holiday attire: the cordial, heartfelt greetings which are extended to us and which we extend to others; the renewing of old-time friendships by the sending of a bright Christmas card; the generosity in our souls toward all; the carols which ring out the Christmas spirit of ardent worship; the bright, significant stars twinkling down from the heavens above; the simplicity and the beauty of the Christmas season; all form a part of the great Christmas thrill. There is no thrill in the world like unto it!—Mary Graham Bonner.

Christmas March Was Played by Minister

THE minister had hung up his stocking, too. The sprites that put into it a candy cane, a lollipop, a ball, an apple and a motor car that would go, had added a mouth organ, most appropriate and perhaps most needed of all gifts, for what other mouth should so dispense harmony?

Then, after breakfast, came the procession into the parlor and unto the wonderful tree. First, little Sarah with the early and aided steps of her one year and the big eyes of her first Christmas tree. Then demure Helen, blowing her own horn for once, then big Sarah and all the uncles, aunts and cousins, then father and mother, and then the minister, playing his new march upon his new organ.

When they were all seated in the happy circle they asked for the words of that new tune and here they are:

If birds could sing in Christmas trees,
If they could hum with happy bees,
If they were sweet with all the spice
Of all things beautiful and nice,
They could not altogether be
More full of love than this, our tree.
Chorus.—March, march to the Christmas tree
It has a loving gift for thee.

Then they all sang it, after which the beautiful tree yielded its fruit.
—Christopher G. Hazard.
